

AURA SINGLE HANGING LIGHT

The story continues.

A hanging light that functions beyond ordinary practicality: an operational piece of co-creation. A story of moulding and painting from the maker's hands – leaving intricate, imperfect finishes – to overseeing the next arc in the heart of the interior space.

Hand-sculpted and finished, the hanging light is crafted from a resin mould. The finished piece is asymmetrical and slightly rugged, fusing with a minimalist off-white colouring – the result of up to four coats of a polymer plaster finish, massaged by hand for added texture.
