

BYBLOS HANGING LIGHT

Immersed in intricacies.

Hand-moulded and painted, the piece carries the direct imprint of the maker's hand. Its surface is intentionally irregular, allowing subtle variations to emerge across the form.

Formed from a sculpted resin mould, layers of polymer plaster are applied and worked by hand. Each coat is massaged across the surface, building texture and softening the structure while maintaining its asymmetry.

The result is an off-white finish that diffuses light gently, balancing rawness with restraint.
