

CLAM SCONCE

Mood-lighting and making.

Beyond ordinary scale, a sculptural sconce with volume. Calming curves and fluid lines meet the rugged, raw edges of the maker's craft, each step undertaken by hand – ever-abundant with expression and feeling.

The resin mould is hand-sculpted to create a rippled surface that ascends from the base to the brim. To achieve the off-white colouring, a polymer plaster finish is applied – hand-brushed onto the mould, then massaged with up to four coats per piece. Subject to the individual movements of the maker's hands, each is celebrated for its inconsistent brushstrokes and the unique craft.
