

DROP MIRRORS

Organic Presence.

Soft, undulating edges give this mirror its organic presence – a form that feels grown rather than made. Hand-shaped and painted, each contour carries subtle variations, ensuring no two pieces are the same.

The mirror reflects and reshapes the space around it, creating an artful moment within an interior.

Sculpted from resin, the frame is finished in an off-white polymer plaster. Applied through irregular brushwork, up to four layers build a textured surface visible across every edge.
