

JAVANESE LAMP

Illuminating history.

For the curated collection of world-worn pieces, an antique Javanese vessel reimagined as a sculptural table lamp. Once used throughout villages and homes to store water and support daily rituals, each urn bears the markings of its past life — softened edges, weathered surfaces and variations unique to decades of use.

Paired with a handcrafted resin shade finished in textured plaster, the piece balances history with contemporary form.

Designed to bring warmth, atmosphere and a sense of permanence to the spaces we inhabit.
