

LUNA STANDING LAMP

Form and function synthesised.

A sculptural lamp of outsized proportions – thought-provoking, illuminating. Lighting designed for the curatorial eye, it's a work of devoted craftsmanship, every detail touched by the maker's hand. Overseeing, and contributing to, the unfolding stories.

The resin mould is hand-sculpted, forming an asymmetrical and slightly abstract appearance. Applied with up to four coats of a polymer plaster finish, the piece holds a striking off-white colouring that is textural and inviting – a thick surface that is massaged by hand. A statement piece in the Luna collection, pair this with the companion wall light.
