

MAUI CONSOLE

Tradition in the interior story.

Imbued with the maker's skilled touch, this console table features a fully rippled top, a surface alive with undulating contours that invite both conversation and thought. Crafted from century-old timber, gather around a piece of history and share stories. This is where traditions continue and evolve.

Timber is collected from 100-year-old logs, then cut into planks and kiln-dried for seven days to reduce the moisture content. After another two days of cooling, the planks are assembled into boards and chiselled around the perimeter, carving deep grooves along the table's edge and center. The surface is equally etched, then sanded back to expose the natural woody grain and highlight the beauty of the material. A process of sanding and staining is repeated up to four times to create a layered finish. The sole responsibility of a single woodworker, this piece is crafted over the course of 12 weeks and is intended to pair with the Maui Coffee Table and Maui Mirror.
