

RIB POT

Understated, elevated, outdoors.

A distinct shape becomes a talking point, at home within the liveable art gallery. With soft angles and smooth lines, the piece serves as a quiet yet visible statement, whether functioning as a planter, a vase or a standalone sculpture.

Concrete is moulded and hand-pressed — a raw finish that develops an off-white tone and porous texture as it dries, where minor imperfections and subtle differences are celebrated.

Balance with the Rib Pot Small.
